

Troops Fill Chinese Forts With Confusion

China's War Panorama Is Described By B. Dixon Simpson.

GREAT SPECTACLE

Present War Developed On a Scale Comparable to Nothing That Has Occurred Since Manchu Invasion.

PEKING, China, Nov. 20. (AP)—China's gigantic war panorama, developed on a scale comparable to nothing that has occurred in China since the Manchu invasion of 250 years ago, has been described by B. Lenox Simpson, proprietor of the Far Eastern Times, as he saw it from the Great Wall near Shan-hai-kwan.

Mr. Simpson has just returned to Peking on the first train to get through after the interruption of traffic September 13. "No ground selected by the most skilled producer of scenic effects," he writes, "could be better than this long narrow plain which, skirting the sea, runs for a hundred miles north for it was the roadway into China during hundreds of years of warfare, and is crowded with the remains of medieval fortifications."

Straight in front of Shan-hai-kwan city and the gateway which is called the First Gateway in the World is an enormous square mud road into which, in the old days thousands of bowmen and cavalry no doubt crowded. Today their place has been taken by the neatly equipped infantrymen in gray, and over the mud parapets which must have been the resting places for the bowmen and their reserve stock of arrows, now appear the ugly muzzles of three-inch guns.

"High up on the hillsides, right to the summit of the mountains, run stone and brick watch towers where once signal beacons were lighted at night, or smoke signals by day, to give the alarm. Now from these towers one sees after nightfall the twinkling of signal lamps, the code messages being picked up and repeated from tower to tower until they reach the sea."

"The villages for miles around," the reporter continues, "have been combed for able-bodied men of the peasant class for enforced service in the digging of trenches between the mountains and the beach, a distance of ten miles. As the number of troops increased, more and more villages were taken over for billeting, and the luckless inhabitants driven out regardless of their future welfare. Guiltless and hollows were crowded with ponies and mules of the transport service, the carts being drawn up in squares much as the American pioneers used to assemble their wagons at night for protection against the Indians."

"From the early morning, trudging along the beach, the fleeing peasantry passed from the war zone to what safety was to be had far to the west and south, women and children mostly mounted on diminutive donkeys or dragging themselves along in the last stages of exhaustion."

The mobilization accomplished in a ten-day period up to September 23, on a one-track railway. Mr. Simpson describes a "feat unparalleled in the railway history of China. Although the railway staffs were at first in despair at the "heresies" committed by the military, trains being run without crews and drawn by hand, they were eventually won over to the situation as it developed and worked manfully to keep things moving. Rolling stock from every railway north of the Yangtze river was massed on the Tientsin-Shan-hai-kwan line. Double crews of six men were eventually placed on every locomotive. The men worked in 12-hour shifts and slept on the coal tenders with their families standing over them to see that they did not run away. The average speed dropped to three miles an hour."

In spite of the fact that the world's railway practice had been torn into shreds, these northern armies turning trains into iron carts chained together and moving forward like an unbroken flood, not an accident of any sort was recorded. At one point on the line the writer saw five engines coupled together, making a single train a mile and a

MUSIC COURSES ARE EXPENSIVE

Composer Says That the Cost of Lessons Hampers U. S. Music Students.

FRANKFORT, Nov. 20. (AP)—Native musicians will never have a fair opportunity in the United States until the cost of musical education is reduced in America, according to Simon Bucharoff, the Chicago composer who is in Germany arranging for the production of his grand new opera, "Sakakra."

"We should have government and city support for music schools and opera houses in the United States," said Mr. Bucharoff, "and I believe such public spirited citizens as General Dawes will eventually bring about the establishment of schools of that character, where poor, but talented young Americans may get through musical education at small cost. A school, such as the Berlin Musical High school, would be a boon to hundreds of Americans who are struggling to become artists."

"In the Berlin school German pupils have tuition for about $50 a year, and foreigners pay about twice that amount. Only youngsters who are well-rounded in music are taken, and the course in the school is ordinarily three years. Most of the pupils have had at least five years of training before they enter the Berlin school."

"Think of the difference in cost for students in Germany and America. Skilled teachers in the United States charge advanced pupils $10, $20, or even $50 a lesson. When one considers that most really gifted pupils in the United States cannot afford to pay even $2 a lesson, and are often earning all their educational funds it is little wonder that American students become discouraged. We can educate our American singers and musicians in the United States better than it can be done here, and by so doing we can lay the foundations for a real American type of music and divorce ourselves from European standards."

"We can get all the European teachers we need in America and create schools just as good as the government maintains in Germany or any other European country."

DROUGHT DON'T EFFECT CITY'S WATER SUPPLY

Middlesboro Fortunate In Having An Abundant Water.

Taken From Lake Fern Lake of Artificial Origin Is Two Miles Long, and Is Situated Between Two Mountain Ranges.

While the entire country has been suffering from severe drought, Middlesboro calmly reads about the other fellow's troubles and goes on her way rejoicing in her abundant supply of pure water.

In some sections of western Kentucky, where have been closed for an indefinite period, on account of the lack of water, caused by the dry spell, while in other states springing cars are being used to haul water. In Louisiana there has been no rain for 51 days, and no rain in sight. Knoxville's drought record of 26 years has just recently been broken.

Middlesboro's supply of water is so abundant that a period of long drought causes no uneasiness, and few people give a thought to the bountiful supply of wholesome water which is furnished to this city.

This water comes from Fern Lake, which is an artificial lake, two miles long, nestled between two mountain ranges. The water is pumped by 2000 ft. pumps to an immense storage tank 275 ft. in diameter, on top of a hill 250 ft. above the town, which gives a pressure throughout the entire city of 115 pounds, that is sufficient to supply the tallest buildings. It would be possible to go a year without rain and still the city would not suffer.

Middlesboro Water company is owned by Kentucky Utilities company which is the largest public service corporation in the state of Kentucky. An analysis of the water is made periodically, usually every three months.

Fern Lake is stocked with game fish and the fishing and boating privileges have been granted to Fern Lake Outing and Hunting club.

Arms Conference To Be Called, Hague, Geneva

Official Washington Silent On Subject of Action.

J. BULL SOUNDED

Diplomatic Circles In Geneva Say That American Government Has Approached English On The Subject.

GENEVA, Nov. 20. (AP)—The latest rumor circulated in diplomatic circles here relative to disarmament is that President Coolidge will convene a new arms conference meeting in Europe which will be held, perhaps at the Hague.

Those circulating the rumor insist that the Washington government have already sounded the British government on the subject.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. (AP)—Since the revival of the arms limitation discussion abroad, the American government has maintained silence, no official being willing to make a statement which might be interpreted as a definite forecast of the course likely to be followed by the United States.

If any tangible steps are being taken in that direction, no hint has been permitted to reach the public. The same policy is being applied to the question of the possible arms conference being called by the president.

The president last August in an address stated that when reparations plan was in operation, he would deem it an appropriate time to approach the other powers relative to a further limitation of armaments.

APPLE SHOW OPENS TODAY

Annual Celebration of Live Stock Exposition Will Interest Everyone.

COVINGTON, Nov. 20. (AP)—The northern Kentucky apple show and fruit growers' short course opened today. Continuing through tomorrow, the show will present every angle of apple growing.

County agents H. P. Link of Campbell county, R. J. Matson of Boone county, C. A. Wickliffe of Kenton county, took charge, assisted by W. W. McGill, fruit specialist at the College of Agriculture, and J. E. Niles, secretary of the Kentucky Horticultural Society. Mr. McGill is a prominent fruit grower in Henderson county.

Exhibitors not only came from northern Kentucky counties but from Ohio and Indiana. Cash premiums were arranged for various classes of exhibits. One class was open to exhibitors from Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana, while other classes were limited to Campbell, Kenton and Boone county exhibitors.

An apple pie contest was among the features as an opportunity for northern Kentucky women to display their baking talents.

In addition to cash premiums and prizes of orchard machinery and other articles, contributed by manufacturers and merchants, silver cups will be given to winners of the plate and tray sweepstakes, according to Mr. Magill.

Varieties of apples on exhibit included delicious Winesap, Stayman, Ben Davis, Rome Beauty, King David, York Imperial, Grimes Golden and others.

Among the speakers at the show and short course will be Robert Dyer, a Jefferson county farmer and fruit grower, who will tell how to grow peaches which will top the market. He sold $6,000 worth of peaches from eight acres this year. Frank Beach of the Ohio State University will discuss fertilizing and cultivating orchards, and judge the exhibits.

Twenty-four fruit growers, with the county agents, recently decided upon the show.

"The show and short course will help to interest growers in producing more and better fruit," Mr. Magill said. "Besides the fruit commission men in Covington and Cincinnati, manufacturers and distributors of machinery, material and fertilizers also helped."

Mabel Normand Sued

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20. (AP)—Mabel Normand's half-million-dollar libel suit against Mrs. J. E. Church was quashed by the superior court yesterday when Judge Shaw upheld the defendant's demurrer, ruling that the film actress had no legal right to seek libel damages because, Mrs. Church is suing her wealthy husband for divorce in reference to his alleged behavior with Miss Normand.

ROAD EQUIPMENT TO BE PURCHASED

Accessories To Be Used On Three Graders Purchased From Galion Iron Works.

FRANKFORT, Nov. 20. (AP)—W. F. Duke, superintendent of equipment of the department of state roads and highways has been given the authority by the state highway commission to buy $34,000 of accessories to be used on three graders recently purchased from the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing company, for $3,015.00.

The commission has promised to make a survey of two routes, presented by two delegations from Floyd county in claims for locating the route between Prestonsburg and Dale of the Mayo Trail. One delegation advocated the route on one side of the river, the other contending for the route on the other side. At its last meeting the commission promised to make a survey of both routes on receipt of $4,000 from the county which was promised. When both surveys are made, the commission will determine which route will be followed.

Joe S. Boggs, highway engineer, said today.

Judge Lassing of Boone County represented that the town of Burlington, the county seat, is a town of the sixth class and unincorporated, asked that the commission extend the reconstruction of the road recently taken over by it from Burlington to Florence to the court house in Burlington.

He also asked that the commission decide which of two routes the road shall take in entering the Dixie Highway through the town of Florence and offered $500.00 on the cost of building it. The commission has agreed to take the question to extend the road to the court house on the road in the town of Florence under advisement, Mr. Boggs said.

U. S. Tackett, contractor, has been released from his contract on a job in Floyd-Johnson county. With his attorney, he appeared before the commission and said a mistake had been made in advertising the job awarded to him whereby the quantity of steel to be put in a bridge was advertised at 182,750 pounds whereas it should have been only 82,750 pounds.

A delegation from the town of Gratz in Green county, has asked the commission to reconstruct a mile and one half section of the Owenenton-New Castle road, 1,200 feet of the work being in the town and 1,400 feet in the county. The commission agreed to send an engineer to look the matter over.

Thieves No Longer Attracted By Metal

BERLIN, Nov. 20. (AP)—The bronze statues of Berlin which were removed by the authorities from their familiar public positions about the city to prevent their being stolen during the period of inflation, have begun to come back again. Thieves no longer seek such heavy stuff as bronze, over the police, and this is taken as a sure sign that conditions generally are again becoming normal.

The four bronze ducks surrounding one fountain and the goose guard with a bird under her arm, guarding another, located in one of the city's centers and which form the object of daily pilgrimage of numerous children, have been returned to their pedestals.

PLAN BIG TIME FOR BOY SCOUTS

Pistic Encounter Between Two Lightweight Battlers To Feature The Evening.

Boy Scouts should not miss the meeting at the M. E. Church south Friday night, or they will miss one of the biggest treats of their lives. A special program has been arranged by the leaders and a good time is in store for those who attend.

The election of patrol leaders will occupy the first part of the program after which there will follow a demonstration on how to tie the ten scout knots required by the tenderfoot test.

The record time for tying these ten knots was forty seconds, the record being made during the tournament between the Knoxville and Middlesboro troops. The record was established by a Middlesboro Scout.

One of the most exciting events of the evening will be a tie fight between two light weight battlers who will fight a four round battle. This promises to be an interesting bout and those who are interested in the manly art of self-defense will not doubt enjoy seeing these youngsters in action.

There will also be a wrestling match, followed by a unique crash race, the winner of this will be awarded a prize befitting the stunt.

A test in observation will be conducted by the scout master and the boy finishing with the highest percent will be awarded a prize.

Preparations for the tenderfoot tests will be started tonight so as to enable the scouts to make higher grades.

The last night of the benefits of Scouting will be Dr. Savage, pastor of the M. E. church south.

Seyyid Talib Pasha Is Much Talked Of

BAGDAD, Nov. 20. (AP)—Great interest has been aroused in Baghdad by the rumor that Seyyid Talib Pasha, a former aspirant to the Irak throne, who is reported to be now in Egypt, is to be allowed to return to his native land. Seyyid Talib was deported by the British authorities in 1921 on account of a speech at a public dinner in which he criticized the British policy of that time. He is known to have had serious designs on the kingship and was probably the most serious rival that the then Emir, now King Feisal had to face.

Seyyid Talib was easily the most prominent political figure produced in this country by the stormy political life of the period. He was also a very good friend to the British particularly in the days of 1920 and his deportation to Ceylon caused resentment at the time even within British official circles.

Why Stay Home to Cook?

Electric ranges are the last word in modern cooking. With one in your home, you do not have to stay home to cook.

After the food has been prepared and placed in the oven of an electric range, set the clock to the time that you wish the cooking to start.

The oven control turns off the electricity at the proper time. When you return home the meal has been perfectly cooked, without attention, and is ready to serve.

For small portions of food—prepared right at the table—the electric grill, table stove or food warmer is ideal—economical in first cost and in operation.

Night Coughing— How to Stop It

Night coughing which, through loss of valuable sleep, often makes you feel utterly worn-out and useless during the day, and by quickly weakening the system lays you open to the most dangerous infections, can now be promptly checked by a very simple treatment. People who have hardly been able to rest on account of coughing spells have found that they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed after the very first trial.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and breaks the soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which is the real cause of the cough. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the cough goes in a very short time.

The prescription contains no opiates or harmful drugs. Excellent for children as well as grown-ups. For coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, sore throat, spasmodic croup, bronchitis, laryngitis and bronchitis. At all good druggists. Ask for

PROSPERITY

We now have predictions on every hand for an era of unprecedented prosperity. Good times are largely a state of mind. When everyone thinks "prosperity" there usually is "prosperity." Business expands and this means full time for the worker. Building Associations are a great factor in making a community prosper. The saver, through the encouragement of a higher interest rate, saves harder. Every dollar of his savings is kept in his home city to build more homes and make living conditions better.

TONNAGE FALLS

BIG STONE GAP, Nov. 20.—Coal and coke production in the Southwest Virginia field fell down considerably during election week as a result of one day's idleness, therefore the weekly report is only based on five days' work. Total output for the above week was 175,416 tons or a decrease of 14,617 tons under the previous period. Eight thousand tons of coke was manufactured, decreasing 1,264 tons from the previous week.

Mining activity in the territory served by the Interstate Railroad is much greater than any other part of the field according to the list of tonnage, hauled by the different railroads. Interstate, 17 mines reporting, 67,009 tons; Southern, 14 mines reporting, 38,177 tons; Norfolk & Western, 24 mines reporting 26,444 tons; Norton & Northern, 3 mines reporting, 1,000 tons.

Loss in tonnage is due to the following causes: Car shortage, 22 tons; labor shortage, 400 tons; mine disability, 2,008 tons; no market, 53,394 tons.

Substitutes are generally more expensive in the end than genuine articles. Housewives have learned—they KNOW this is true where bakings are concerned.

Self rising flours are classed as substitutes for plain flour and good baking powder. The use of these special mixtures is very liable to result in false economy, failures and waste on bake day.

Remember there is a big difference, in many ways, between biscuits and other bakings made from these so-called self-rising flours and those made from good plain flour and a dependable leavener. Try the experiment—make a baking from each—convince yourself.

You will find the baking made from flour and baking powder far more attractive in appearance. It will raise higher—retain its full food value and taste better. For best results, do not fail to use Calumet, the Economy Baking Powder, and a reliable brand of plain flour.

Just think of it—the sale of Calumet is 2½ times those of any other brand. It contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by the United States Food Authorities. It is pure and sure.

You save when you buy it—you save when you use it.
